

A detailed map of the Soidinvaaran vesiosuuskunta (water district) in Finland. The map shows a complex network of water bodies, including large lakes and smaller ponds, colored in light blue. The land areas are primarily white, with some yellow patches indicating built-up areas or forests. A network of black lines represents roads and other infrastructure. A prominent blue line outlines the boundary of the water district, which is irregular and follows the shape of the water bodies. The text "Soidinvaaran vesiosuuskunta" is written in blue in the center of the map.
